5.0 PROCEDURE

No person is permitted to engage in gainful enterprise or solicitation on the campus without permission of the Dean of Student Life and Wellness. Persons wishing to solicit funds, sell printed matter, products, services, or other items, distribute commercial literature of any kind, or post or distribute advertising material dealing with commercial items or services must secure approval in advance from the Dean of Student Life and Wellness.

Activities related to the sales of goods and/or services must be confined to areas designated by the Dean of Student Life and Wellness. The above activities must be sponsored by the College, a recognized student organization or College- related organization. In addition, the individuals engaged in such posting, selling, or soliciting must be currently enrolled UA-PTC students or employees of the College, or duly approved agents authorized to distribute material(s) or solicit sales on behalf of the College or a recognized college organization. Newspapers may be sold or distributed only in racks provided by the publisher in locations designated by the Dean of Student Life and Wellness in consultation with the UA-PTC PR and Marketing Office.

In accordance with Arkansas Code Annotated 4-104-201 to 204, UA-PTC prohibits the offering of gifts or any other promotional incentives to anyone under twenty-one (21) years of age through direct face-to-face contact in order to entice the person to apply for a credit card.
